

SEVEN CANDIDATES FOR THE REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL RACE ARE FORMALLY NOMINATED DURING AN HISTORIC SESSION WHICH ENDS AT 4.02 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

By William Theis

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Seven contenders were formally placed in the GOP presidential balloting contest during an historic seven-hour session which ended at 4.02 a. m. (E. D. T.) today.

Permanent Chairman Joseph Martin recessed the almost night-long session to the accompaniment of a chorus of hoarse "ayes" and a grateful silence when he asked for "noes."

His action immediately followed the nomination of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and a seconding speech by Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright. MacArthur was the seventh candidate whose name was placed in nomination.

The decision to reconvene at mid-afternoon apparently will mean the convention will run well into this evening and perhaps extend to a Friday session.

Tired, perspiring delegates streamed from the Convention Hall after Chairman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., banged his gavel for the last time and announced that the convention would reconvene at two p. m. EDT today.

It was a wearing but dramatic session during which these Presidential candidates were formally placed in nomination in this order:

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the front-running candidate under fire from his opponents for staging a "blitz."

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Dewey's chief contender.

Gov. Earl Warren of California, Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, a leading "dark horse" for any compromise.

Sen. Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut, a "favorite son" and possible Vice Presidential nominee.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The session which began at 9.15 p. m. Wednesday night lasted a little more than seven hours.

William Livingston, Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania and convention sergeant-at-arms, announced following the near-dawn recess that all nominations had been closed.

This wound up the candidate entries without presentation of the name of Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who was the "favorite son" of his delegation.

The long night session had more than its share of colorful and noisy demonstrations as the candidates were nominated and seconded for first place on the GOP 1948 ticket.

Five hours after the session began, the names of the "big four" candidates—Dewey, Taft, Warren and Stassen—had been placed in nomination to the accompaniment of explosive demonstrations.

Convention leaders apparently were determined to dispose of all nominating speeches before the convention recesses to reconvene at 11 a. m. EDT, this morning for the crucial balloting session.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, locked in a desperate struggle for delegate support against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, touched off the longest demonstration when his name was placed in nomination by Sen. John W. Bricker, his junior Senate colleague.

Like the other leading candidates, Taft was not in Convention Hall to witness the 37-minute outburst from the delegates.

Dewey won first position in the historic nominating session when Alabama yielded its position to Pennsylvania so Sen. Edward Martin could put the New Yorker's name officially before the convention.

Jesse N. Barber, 82, a native of Fallington section, a leader in the baking industry, amateur and semi-professional baseball in Trenton, N. J., died at his home in that city on Saturday.

Mr. Barber, who learned the baking trade in his youth, assisted in the operation of a flour mill on the Morrisville-Fallington road.

In his early manhood he temporarily gave up the baking industry to manage the horse car lines in East Trenton. Later he became manager of a large baking firm in Trenton, and some years later organized his own firm.

The deceased at one time was president of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce and a director of McKinley Hospital. He also was the sponsor of the J. N. Barbers, a baseball team in the Delaware Valley league.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Cecelia Taylor Barber, and a sister, Mrs. Wesley Evans.

Volunteer workers who have been breaking up the rock ledge in the rear of the Sunday school room at the Point Pleasant Baptist Community Church, have filled the basement to capacity five times, breaking up and removing a hundred tons of rock since the project was begun on January 14, of this year.

CONVENTION SUMMARY

Two "favorite sons"—Governor Driscoll of New Jersey and House Majority Leader Halleck of Indiana—released their delegations yesterday and joined the Dewey "bandwagon" at the Republican National Convention. Gov. Driscoll spoke only for himself, but Mr. Halleck said Indiana would cast its 29 votes for Governor Dewey. Dewey and 27 for Senator Taft. The bulk of the Missouri vote will go to Dewey, but Gov. Green of Illinois said most of his delegation would vote for Senator Taft after the first ballot.

Dewey managers, in search of a quick victory, were said to have combined real gains with unsupported claims to create a "bandwagon" psychology. The opposition centered its efforts on preventing a nomination for at least four ballots.

Harold E. Stassen took personal charge of the "stop Dewey" movement and Senator Taft, placing the top Dewey strength at not more than 400, with 548 necessary for nomination, said a New York delegate would second his own nomination. Governor Dewey predicted victory on an early ballot.

The continued silence of Senator Vandenberg improved the chances

SUPREME COURT BAR MEMBER STARTS SUIT

Names John H. and Mary A.
Piszczek, Formerly of Quakertown

ONE BRISTOL CASE

DOYLESTOWN, June 24 — Two suits, one in which a Supreme Court Bar member is suing for legal services rendered, and the other in which a New Hope wife, who is estranged from her husband, hoped to recover household possessions valued at $1,000 and a libel in divorce have been filed in the Court of Common Pleas here.

John H. Piszczek and Mary A. Piszczek, formerly of Quakertown, have been named the defendants in a suit claiming $1,500. The plaintiff is Philip S. Polls, 4900 Monument road, Phila., who has been a member of the Supreme Court bar of Pennsylvania for 23 years.

The plaintiff's suit grows out of legal service performed for one defendant, Mary A. Piszczek, who separated from her husband November 21, 1917, but resumed living with him January 5, this year. While residing in Quakertown, the defendants lived on Penrose avenue.

rites to be held SAT.

The body of a young Bristol man who lost his life on Luzon nine months after his brother paid the supreme sacrifice at Normandy Beach on "D-Day," arrived in Bristol today for re-interment. The rites arranged are for Pfc. Alfred Venturino, a native of Bristol.

The funeral will be held from the home of a brother at 1200 N. Cedar street (off Taylor street), on Saturday at nine a. m., with Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Ann's R. C. Church at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Mark's Cemetery, with Vincent D. Galzerano, funeral director, in charge. Relatives and friends, also members of Chester W. Terchon Post, V. F. W., and Robert W. Bracken Post, American Legion, are invited.

Pfc. Alfred Venturino was inducted into the U. S. Army October 10th, 1941, and served with the Sixth Infantry Division. He was in the South Pacific area for 2½ years. He participated in the battle of New Guinea and met his death on the island of Luzon March 17th, 1945, nine months after his brother, Pfc. Nelson Venturino, was killed in France.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Venturino; and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. William Levy, Mrs. Peter Lucas, Michael and Joseph Venturino, of Bristol; John Venturino, Trenton, N. J.

New By-Laws Approved By Estates Auxiliary

On Tuesday evening Mrs. William Eckstein was hostess to the Women's Auxiliary of Fleetwing Estates Civic Association.

Mrs. George Kemmerer, president, presented revised and simplified by-laws for the auxiliary, which were approved. These by-laws make a distinction between active and non-voting membership; active members may include only one woman from each family in the Estates, who will pay dues and have the right to vote; non-voting membership may include any others who will participate in all activities of the auxiliary but will not pay dues or vote. Other changes were also included.

Plans for the summer were discussed, also plans for increasing the treasury.

It was announced that a bulletin board will be set up in the store on Bloomsdale Road, which will carry announcements of local interest.

Mrs. Eckstein served cake and ice cream to the group after the meeting was adjourned.

Girl Scouts to Start Semi-Finals Program

Richlandtown Intermediate Troop No. 32 gave the 36th Girl Scout broadcast over Station WTTM at 9.15 Saturday morning. The leader was Miss Doris Hinkle who also was their accompanist.

The program consisted of: accordion solo, "Missouri Waltz"; Anna Mae Zwink; bolero solo, "Welcome Sweet Springtime"; Alice Hinkle; piano duet, "Harmonica Wizard"; Ruth Crouthamel and Thelma Heist; chorus, "John Peel"; according solo, "Now is the Hour"; Jean Shinn; piano solo, "The Moon Rocket"; Dorothy Stevenback. Mary Schaffer gave a very interesting interview.

The winner of the 34th program was Norma Frank, of Quakertown Intermediate Troop No. 28.

This week's program will be the third of five semi-finals; at the same time, Saturday, June 26th.

SEVEN BENEFICIARIES ARE LISTED IN WILL

$16,000 Divided by John A.
Herbst, Late of Bristol
Township

THE LYNN ESTATE

DOYLESTOWN, June 24—A personal estate of $16,000 is to be divided among seven beneficiaries, according to the will of John A. Herbst, Bristol township.

The testator, who died May 18, executed his will Feb. 2. Individual beneficiaries are an aunt, Kate Ridge, $1,000; Walter T. Cunningham, Andalusia, $500; Robert Dilks, Newtown, $500; Mary Gall, $500, a banjo clock and picture; Kathryn Rosenberger, Lansdale, a grandfather's clock and antique vases; Paul Rosenberger, 169 Jenkins avenue, Lansdale, antique desk; Harry Rosenberger, 196 North Cannon avenue, cuckoo clock. Kathryn Rosenberger was bequeathed the residue.

A son, Edgar J. Schilling, Coopersburg, RD 1, was granted the letters of administration in the estate of his mother, Alice S. Schilling, Richlandtown, amounting to a personal estate of $16,000. The decedent died May 18.

A sister-in-law, Elizabeth J. Cunningham, was named the sole beneficiary in the will of James J. Lynn, Bristol, who left a personal estate of $1,000 and real estate valued at $5,000. Real estate is located at 1242 Radcliffe street. The testator, who died May 15, executed his will May 4, 1943, and the executrix is now living at 1242 Radcliffe street.

Preston A. Hillekas, of Quakertown, who was a marble cutter for many years at Richlandtown, named a niece, Estella Kline, 1113 Rising Sun avenue, Philadelphia, the residuary heir of his $50 estate. Mrs. Kline was bequeathed a grandfather's clock, and her husband, Dorey Kline, 1113 Rising Sun avenue, was named executor. The will was executed November 25, 1945, and the testator died May 29.

Robert C. Kircher, Warminster, was granted the letters of administration in the estate of Walter J. Evans, Warminster township, amounting to a personal estate of $500. There are no heirs. The decedent died April 19.

Letters of administration in the estate of Wesley Earl Thompson, Bensalem township, were granted to George Eisenhardt, amounting to a personal estate of $300 and real estate valued at $400. The heirs are a brother, Walter D. Thompson, Fort Johnson, N. Y., and Fred Thompson, Albany; two sisters, Nettie T. Vedder, Amsterdam, N. Y., and Elizabeth T. Green, New York City. The decedent died May 2.

Mill Street Merchants Stage Street-Wide Sale

The June Streetwide Sale, sponsored by the Mill Street Business Men's Association, gets under way today for a three-day period, with many outstanding values being offered by the participating merchants.

Complete details of this, the third in a series of such sales, will be found on pages 10 and 11 of today's Courier.

Trenton Lad Injured When Struck by Truck

MORRISVILLE, June 24—A Trenton boy, 11, was slightly injured last night when struck by one of the Kings Farm trucks. The injured boy is Mark Ruderman, 1163 West State street. He and his older brother, Joseph, were riding their bicycles on East Pennsylvania avenue at about 5.30 o'clock.

A Kings Farm truck driven by Walter Burkhardt, Mill Creek Road, Bristol Township, made a wide turn into Bridge street off East Pennsylvania avenue as also did the two boys.

Ruderman was taken to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, in the ambulance of the Union Fire Co. He has a possible fracture of the ankle and his left leg was bruised.

Officers Johnson and Wiley investigated.

PLAYGROUNDS WILL OPEN HERE MONDAY

Several New Features Are To Be Added This Year

OPEN MORNING 9.30

The playgrounds in Bristol Memorial Park will open the season Monday morning at 9.30 o'clock. When the flag goes up each day it means the grounds are open. There will be a number of new attractions this year, including swings for small children, quilts, horse shoes, and see-saws. These are in addition to those which were enjoyed last year, which included swings for older children, slides and climbing tower.

Activities are also scheduled under the sponsorship of the Y. M. C. A., to start Monday morning, on the baseball diamonds, when steps will be taken to organize two junior baseball leagues. These are to be under the direction of Jerry Bloom, well-known Bristol high school athletic director.

Charles Utz, of the Bristol high school faculty, will be in charge of the playground area, and will have as his assistants Miss Carl Ludwig and Charles Peet. Miss Ludwig will look after the smaller children. Mr. Peet will assist in caring for the older children. Parents are requested to send small children to the playgrounds only during the hours when Miss Ludwig will be in attendance. This is done to safeguard the younger children and to better protect them from injury, as well as to endeavor to amuse them.

Two tennis courts will be operated this year. Other forms of recreation will be developed during the season, and it is anticipated that the attendance this year will far exceed that of last year, which was the first that the grounds were opened. There will be dodge ball, volleyball, soft ball, horse shoes and quilts.

The hours Miss Ludwig will be on duty are as follows:

Heroes With Unloaded Gun

(By "The Stroller")
Three local men had a novel experience recently while on their way home from Philadelphia in the wee hours of the morning. When in the vicinity of Cornwells in their car, they spotted two women, both in night clothes, and apparently in trouble. The men stopped the car and went to the women's assistance. They learned that the two women, mother and daughter, had a store, and were informed it was being robbed. One of the women had a gun in her hand.

One of the trio of men took the gun from her and entered the store waving the gun around, shouting: "Stick 'em up; we've got you trapped!" No response! With the gun as added courage, the three men made a thorough search of the store, shouting such phrases as "We got you covered," "Come out or we'll shoot," etc.

Not finding any robbers, they made their exit and talked to the women until the police arrived. The man with the gun was talking and waving the pistol indiscriminately at his two companions when one of them said: "Hey, don't point that gun at me; it might go off." And to the surprise and consternation of the trio, one of the women said: "Oh, don't worry about that, the gun isn't loaded."

Our three heroes couldn't wait until the police arrived after learning that. "What would we have done if we did encounter the robbers with an empty gun?" asked one of the men. They decided that the next time they see two women in night clothes they'll keep right on going.

DISARMAMENT AGREEMENT

Disarmament, instead of increased preparation for war, is being urged in some circles as a better method of dealing with Russia. It is contended that when Russia sees that this country has no thought of aggression, the Soviet government will feel secure and go about the business of peace.

It is probably true that Russia sees in this country's increased military preparedness a plan of aggression which would be directed at that country. Moscow already has claimed America has a definite plan to attack and destroy her principal cities with atom bombs.

The plan as proposed might be effective if it could be explained to all the Russian people. It has been said that the Russian people are opposed to war, and that they are going along with their government because they have been goaded into fear of invasion.

When they are assured the United States has only peaceful intentions, and that fear is removed, there could be a demand for peace by the Russian people, disarmament advocates say.

The chief argument of those who subscribe to this doctrine is the fact that preparedness for war has failed to bring peace in the past. Should such proposal be made to Russia and rejected, then it would be time to really prepare for war, the theory runs. At any rate it would bring the impasse with Russia to a head, and this country would know finally what it is up against. Especially if Russia seized the interlude of American disarmament to attack would this country know it.

SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

BOYS' "McGREGGERS" are honeys. Boys especially keen about these "smooth" slacks suits of washable spun rayon fabrics in plain blue, tan or green, or in two-tones. The trousers are made with the new California high-rise waistlines, and have zippered closings. Shirts are smartly cut, with short sleeves, of course. "McGreggers" are always in the last thing in good style. These slacks sets are priced at $9.95 and come in sizes 8 to 20 in the Snellenburg Boys' Dept. (3rd fl.)

GUARDIAN ANGELS of the garden are those two miraculous Sherwin-Williams products — the "Bug-Buster-Gun", ready filled with powder, at $1.98 (refills $1.29), and wonderful "Weed-No-More" that kills dandelions (poor, pretty things!), poison ivy, ragweed, chickweed, thistles, etc., etc. — without killing the grass! "Weed-No-More" in lawn size, serving for 1600 square feet, costs but $1. Now being featured in the Snellenburg Garden Dept. (1st fl.)

ART NEWS! That good Art Supplies Dept. in Snellenburg is causing a rave among professional and amateur artists alike. The Department is showing those wonderful "Stretch-R-Panels" of canvas. Some of these canvases, already stretched on light-weight, compact stretchers that can scarcely be seen, will fit right into the average painting kit! Sizes are from 8x10 ins. to 18x24 ins., prices from 30c to 90c. If you or yours can't paint, buy one of Snellenburg's $2 beginners' kits, and start out with faith! (4th fl.)

SHINING GIFTS. I've always thought that a glowing mirror was one of the most appropriate and effective gifts one could give a bride and groom. Moreover, it should be in good taste and as large as the giver can afford. The Snellenburg Mirror Dept. is, for example, famous among interior decorators for having good mirrors at reasonable prices. You will be charmed with the Snellenburg Venetian or unframed plain or etched plate-glass mirrors — so artistically modern — in 12x24 in. to 30x62 in. sizes, at $9.95 to $79.95. Each is guaranteed. See them. (4th fl.)

REJUVENATE your car! Lower prices for food-looking plastic seat covers are just in time for dressing up old or protecting new cars for Fourth of July outings. See the covers in the Snellenburg Sporting Goods Dept. These plastics are washable, stain-repellent, fire-proofed! They come in plaids and in plain, rich blue, green or maroon. You'll like the way they fit all 1940 to 1948 car models. A wonderful value at only $19.95. (3rd fl.)

UNBELIEVABLE is the factory close-out sale of genuine hand-made "Beacon" glass, taking place in the Snellenburg Glassware Dept. Thousands of jewel-like pieces, valued at 39c for tiny ashtrays to $5.98 for shimmering large vases, or bowls, wine sets, candlesticks, etc., are actually selling at from 10c to $2 each! There's a choice of sapphire, ruby, emerald, peach, crystal, etc. "Beacon" makes wonderful wedding presents. I've gifted my own windowills, and I'm stocking up for Christmas! (3rd fl.)

BRIDE SILVER — shining silver plate on a sturdy copper base — is on display in the Snellenburg Silver Dept. Each piece costs but $9.95 plus 20% U. S. tax, except the two-piece sugar and creamer and the gravy boat and tray which come combined in pairs at the one-piece price. Also, you'll find covered vegetable dishes, serving trays, eight-cup coffee pots, six-cup tea-pots, etc. Buy singly or make up your own "services." (1st fl.)

VACATION BOOKS. These books, carefully selected for vacation reading, await you in the Snellenburg Book Dept. Not only adult readers are considered, but there are many juveniles, the latter at 25c to $2. If, ordering by mail, you are uncertain about selection, describe the type reading preferred, and books of that kind will be forwarded. There are many, many fascinating new titles, as well as delightful old ones. Have a good time with them! (1st fl.)

DISARMAMENT AGREEMENT

Disarmament, instead of increased preparation for war, is being urged in some circles as a better method of dealing with Russia. It is contended that when Russia sees that this country has no thought of aggression, the Soviet government will feel secure and go about the business of peace.

It is probably true that Russia sees in this country's increased military preparedness a plan of aggression which would be directed at that country. Moscow already has claimed America has a definite plan to attack and destroy her principal cities with atom bombs.

The plan as proposed might be effective if it could be explained to all the Russian people. It has been said that the Russian people are opposed to war, and that they are going along with their government because they have been goaded into fear of invasion. When they are assured the United States has only peaceful intentions, and that fear is removed, there could be a demand for peace by the Russian people, disarmament advocates say.

The chief argument of those who subscribe to this doctrine is the fact that preparedness for war has failed to bring peace in the past. Should such proposal be made to Russia and rejected, then it would be time to really prepare for war, the theory runs. At any rate it would bring the impasse with Russia to a head, and this country would know finally what it is up against. Especially if Russia seized the interlude of American disarmament to attack would this country know it.

THE NEW FORD

It is always national news when a new Ford comes out, although it is no longer America's cheapest car. Other manufacturers cannot deny that it was old Henry Ford who put America on motorized wheels for the first time.

The Model T was the car for the millions, and 15,000,000 of them were made. Once Mr. Ford got the price down to less than $300. It was in 1909 that he told his prospective customers that they shouldn't be particular about what they got in an automobile for that money.

"Any customer," he said, "can have a car painted any color he wants, so long as it's black."

Since the days of Fords available in all shades of black there have been the Model A and the newer models that have taken color and many other aspects in addition to price into consideration. By announcing 1949 models in June, Ford has beaten his competitors to the draw, but they, too, can be expected to bring out lines with new contours before the end of the year.

In the minds of the car-hungry, however, the most appropriately named part of any automobile agency's headquarters is still the waiting room.

ANDALUSIA

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pickersill entertained friends and relatives on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hartman, Mayfair, were Friday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hartman.

Harvey Crowthers, Jr., returned to his home on Friday, after spending some time at Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, with a badly severed finger, which accident occurred while he was playing with a toy airplane. The propeller was responsible for cutting his finger.

Mrs. Richard F. Brackin entertained friends at bridge on Thursday evening. Mrs. Wilson Smith, Bristol, won first place, Mrs. Edward Ebert, Crofton, second, and Mrs. Raymond Vickers, Andalusia, was awarded consolation prize. Supper was served to eight.

Robert Engle was confined to his home by illness for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bush, Wilmington, Del., entertained members of the former King Theatre Guild, Andalusia, at a "doggie" roast, on the lawn of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hartman, Saturday evening. Those enjoying the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Horace Murray, Mr. and Mrs. William Lange, Miss Hilda Liversidge, Philadelphia; Miss Lorena Cassil, Crofton; Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Del.; and Mrs. Austin Larson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hartman, and Albert Achilles, Andalusia.

Dinner guests of the Hartmans on Saturday were Miss Minerva Achilles and Mrs. Uerkitz, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Erbrich and son were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Erbrich, Juniata.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Chapman, Palmyra, N. J., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hartman.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Brackin, and son; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brackin, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley, Drexel Hill, who entertained in honor of their daughter's graduation from Upper Darby high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clement entertained at Sunday supper: Mrs. Kate Ravior, Mrs. Marge Young and son, George, Jr., and Mrs. Otto Delheim, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Loesch, of Torresdale Manor, recently returned from Chicago, Ill., where Mr. Loesch attended the Catholic War Veterans

HULMEVILLE

A week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hibbs has been concluded by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gattand. The Gattands returned on Sunday to their home at Buffalo, N. Y.

The summer is being passed by Mrs. William Vornhold and Miss Ida Roberts at Seaside Heights, N. J. Their guest at the resort for two weeks is Mrs. Carrie Steffen, Philadelphia.

Members of the Sunday School class of Neshaminy Methodist Church taught by Miss Edna M. Schatt held their annual dinner last evening at Miss Schatt's home. A corsage of roses was received by each guest. Participants were: Mrs. Frank Harper, Mrs. Harry Claus, Bensalem township; Mrs. Louis Dunlap, Jr., Mrs. Harold Daseburg, Mrs. Roger S. Burns, Mrs. George Bilger, Miss Elma E. Haefner, and Miss Schatt. A program of games, for which prizes were given, and the showing of color slides concluded the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dean were visited last week by Mr. Dean's brother, Howard, of Philadelphia, who was with them until Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean on Saturday and Sunday were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Polovoy, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. David Paulus, Merchantville, N. J., were entertained on Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Paulus.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Patterson on Sunday took their son "Billy" to visit his great-grandmother, Mrs. Albert E. Turner, Wyncote.

SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

BOYS' "McGREGGERS" are honeys. Boys especially keen about these "smooth" slack suits of washable spun rayon fabrics in plain blue, tan or green, or in two-tones. The trousers are made with the new California high-rise waistlines, and have zippered closings. Shirts are smartly cut, with short sleeves, of course. "McGreggers" are always in the last thing in good style. These slack sets are priced at $9.95 and come in sizes 8 to 20 in the Snellenburg Boys' Dept. (3rd fl.)

GUARDIAN ANGELS of the garden are those two miraculous Sherwin-Williams products — the "Bug-Blaster-Gun", ready filled with powder, at $1.98 (refills $1.29), and wonderful "Weed-No-More" that kills dandelions (poor, pretty things!), poison ivy, ragweed, chickweed, thistles, etc., etc. — without killing the grass! "Weed-No-More" in lawn size, serving for 1600 square feet, costs but $1. Now being featured in the Snellenburg Garden Dept. (1st fl.)

ART NEWS! That good Art Supplies Dept. in Snellenburg is causing a rave among professional and amateur artists alike. The Department is showing those wonderful "Stretch-R-Panels" of canvas. Some of these canvases, already stretched on light-weight, compact stretchers that can scarcely be seen, will fit right into the average painting kit! Sizes are from 8x10 ins. to 18x24 ins., prices from 30¢ to 90¢. If you or yours can't paint, buy one of Snellenburg's $2 beginners' kits, and start out with faith! (4th fl.)

REJUVENATE your car! Lower prices for good-looking plastic seat covers are just in time for dressing up old or protecting new cars for Fourth of July outings. See the covers in the Snellenburg Sporting Goods Dept. These plastics are washable, stain-repellent, fire-proofed! They come in plaids and in plain, rich blue, green or maroon. You'll like the way they fit all 1940 to 1948 car models. A wonderful value at only $19.95. (3rd fl.)

BRIDE SILVER — shining silver plate on a sturdy copper base — is on display in the Snellenburg Silver Dept. Each piece costs but $9.95 plus 20% U. S. tax, except the two-piece sugar and creamer and the gravy boat and tray which come combined in pairs at the one-piece price. Also, you'll find covered vegetable dishes, serving trays, eight-cup coffee pots, six-cup teapots, etc. Buy singly or make up your own "services." (1st fl.)

VACATION BOOKS. These books, carefully selected for vacation reading, await you in the Snellenburg Book Dept. Not only adult readers are considered, but there are many juveniles, the latter at 25¢ to $2. If, ordering by mail, you are uncertain about selection, describe the type reading preferred, and books of that kind will be forwarded. There are many, many fascinating new titles, as well as delightful old ones. Have a good time with them! (1st fl.)

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

Working on Monday and Wednesday nights each week from 8 to 10 o'clock, the volunteer workers experienced great difficulty during the final weeks in removing the rock without weakening the foundation of the 99-year-old building.

The church will celebrate its 100th anniversary in September, and its members have established an anniversary fund for the repair and remodeling of the building. A goal of $5000 has been set, and the fund now totals about $2500.

The next step in the project will be to engage a contractor to lay a concrete floor and wall, after which a modern kitchen will be installed.

Conrad C. Seiz, 80, who for almost half a century was in the electric car service and who for the past 14 years was a resident of Doylestown, died in the Abington Hospital on Monday.

Born in Philadelphia, a son of the late Jacob and Christine Seiz, the deceased was one of the first operators of horse cars in Philadelphia.

Later he located in Plumsteadville, where he was employed as a motorman by the Doylestown and Easton Electric Company. When this company was discontinued, Mr. Seiz became an employee of the P. T. C., from which he was retired on pension. The family moved to the county seat from Easton.

In addition to his widow, Laura M. (nee Lightcap) Seiz, the deceased is survived by three sons.

RECIPES

Hamburgers With Tomato Sauce and Onions No. 1 Ranch Treat

If it's your family yelling "When's dinner?" or a roomful of polite but hungry last-minute guests, you can be sure of pleasing palates with hamburgers. Made at the last minute with onion slices and canned all-tomato sauce, you need only rolls, a raw vegetable salad with French dressing and coffee or milk to complete the meal. Prepare the hamburgers Ranch Style. This means frying them together with the onions and a can of tomato cooking sauce and serving as the ranchers do. Whether you are feeding the crowd cowboy-style underneath the stars or right in your own dining room directly from the skillet, just place the round trying pan on a platter or tray, fetch some hamburger rolls warm from the oven, and let the gourmands make their own.

Hamburgers Ranch Style

1½ pounds ground beef
1 onion, finely minced

1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 to 8 stuffed olives, if desired
3 tablespoons shortening
1 large onion, thickly sliced
1 can (8oz.) all-tomato sauce
Mix beef, onion seasoning and olives, thinly sliced. Shape into 8 patties (large and rather thin). Brown in heavy frying pan in the shortening. Remove to platter and keep warm. Shake onion sliced into rings and saute in fat until delicately brown. Remove to platter. Add tomato sauce to drippings; simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Arrange hamburgers in sauce, alternating with onion rings. Re-heat. Serve piping hot. Serves 8.

California French Dressing
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon garlic salt (optional)
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon sugar (or less)
2 tablespoons all-tomato sauce
6 tablespoons vinegar (preferably wine vinegar)
8 tablespoons salad oil
Measure ingredients into dressing bottle or bowl. Stir or shake well before using.

Champagne Punch For Weddings

All the world loves a bride and this is the month of wedding and anniversary celebrations. Circumstances dictate whether the wedding party will be large or small but tradition calls for Champagne, the wine of romance, to toast the bridal couple. If only the immediate family and a few friends are being invited, the champagne may be offered in conventional sherbet glasses and the most important point to remember is that this sparkling wine must be thoroughly iced before serving. For a larger party or reception, a champagne punch is appropriate, and this recipe will serve 30 guests:

BRIDE'S CHAMPAGNE BOWL
3 cups sugar
2 cups lemon juice
4 cups canned pineapple, cubed
1½ quarts ice water
1 quart strawberries, fresh or frozen
2 bottles champagne
1 bottle sauterne
Chill champagne and sauterne thoroughly. Dissolve sugar in lemon juice. Combine in a punch bowl with pineapple. Add a square block of ice. Add chilled sauterne and ice water. Just before serving, add strawberries and chilled champagne.

● WHEN NIGHTS ARE WARM, the best is none too good for your children's sleeping comfort. You'll find good quality seersucker in Kaynee's two-piece summer pajamas with waist bands, both elastic and adjustable. No ironing required to keep them looking fresh. Smith's Model Shop, $2.98.

● NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY to change your favorite snapshots into vivid life-like color portraits. Anyone can do it, just by using little tufts of cotton and special oil paints made for the purpose. Ordinary snapshots in matte (not glossy) finish will lend themselves to this simple and interesting transformation. Mistakes are easily removed without damage to the print. Ask for Marshall Photo-Oil Colors at Nichols, 325 Mill Street.

● MAC GREGOR'S THE THING, when you're looking for quality in sweaters, you'll agree. So you'll want to see Gilardi's selection of MacGregor short-sleeved, knitted pullovers for men — attractive color combinations on a white background. Ideal for a man's favorite outdoor pastime and an exceptionally good buy at $2.95. (322 Mill Street)

● DO YOU LIKE TO COOK? Most women do, but not under a dryer waiting their turn in a beauty shop! Here and There In Bucks County Towns

Working on Monday and Wednesday nights each week from 8 to 10 o'clock, the volunteer workers experienced great difficulty during the final weeks in removing the rock without weakening the foundation of the 99-year-old building.

The church will celebrate its 100th anniversary in September, and its members have established an anniversary fund for the repair and remodeling of the building. A goal of $5000 has been set, and the fund now totals about $2500.

The next step in the project will be to engage a contractor to lay a concrete floor and wall, after which a modern kitchen will be installed.

Conrad C. Seiz, 80, who for almost half a century was in the electric car service and who for the past 14 years was a resident of Doylestown, died in the Abington Hospital on Monday.

Born in Philadelphia, a son of the late Jacob and Christine Seiz, the deceased was one of the first operators of horse cars in Philadelphia.

Later he located in Plumsteadville, where he was employed as a motorman by the Doylestown and Easton Electric Company. When this company was discontinued, Mr. Seiz became an employee of the P. T. C., from which he was retired on pension. The family moved to the county seat from Easton.

In addition to his widow, Laura M. (nee Lightcap) Seiz, the deceased is survived by three sons.

RECIPES

Hamburgers With Tomato Sauce and Onions No. 1 Ranch Treat

If it's your family yelling "When's dinner?" or a roomful of polite but hungry last-minute guests, you can be sure of pleasing palates with hamburgers. Made at the last minute with onion slices and canned all-tomato sauce, you need only rolls, a raw vegetable salad with French dressing and coffee or milk to complete the meal. Prepare the hamburgers Ranch Style. This means frying them together with the onions and a can of tomato cooking sauce and serving as the ranchers do. Whether you are feeding the crowd cowboy-style underneath the stars or right in your own dining room directly from the skillet, just place the round frying pan on a platter or tray, fetch some hamburger rolls warm from the oven, and let the gourminds make their own.

Hamburgers Ranch Style
1½ pounds ground beef
1 onion, finely minced

1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 to 8 stuffed olives, if desired
3 tablespoons shortening
1 large onion, thickly sliced
1 can (8oz.) all-tomato sauce
Mix beef, onion seasoning and olives, thinly sliced. Shape into 8 patties (large and rather thin). Brown in heavy frying pan in the shortening. Remove to platter and keep warm. Shake onion sliced into rings and saute in fat until delicately brown. Remove to platter. Add tomato sauce to drippings; simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Arrange hamburgers in sauce, alternating with onion rings. Re-heat. Serve piping hot. Serves 8.

California French Dressing
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon garlic salt (optional)
1½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon sugar (or less)
2 tablespoons all-tomato sauce
6 tablespoons vinegar (preferably wine vinegar)
8 tablespoons salad oil.
Measure ingredients into dressing bottle or bowl. Stir or shake well before using.

Champagne Punch For Weddings

All the world loves a bride and this is the month of wedding and anniversary celebrations. Circumstances dictate whether the wedding party will be large or small but tradition calls for Champagne, the wine of romance, to toast the bridal couple. If only the immediate family and a few friends are being invited, the champagne may be offered in conventional champagne goblets or stemmed sherbet glasses and the most important point to remember is that this sparkling wine must be thoroughly iced before serving. For a larger party or reception, a champagne punch is appropriate, and this recipe will serve 30 guests:

BRIDE'S CHAMPAGNE BOWL
3 cups sugar
2 cups lemon juice
4 cups canned pineapple, cubed
1½ quarts ice water
1 quart strawberries, fresh or frozen
2 bottles champagne
1 bottle sauterne
Chill champagne and sauterne thoroughly. Dissolve sugar in lemon juice. Combine in a punch bowl with pineapple. Add a square block of ice. Add chilled sauterne and ice water. Just before serving, add strawberries and chilled champagne.

●WHEN NIGHTS ARE WARM, the best is none too good for your children's sleeping comfort. You'll find good quality seersucker in Kaynee's two-piece summer pajamas with waist bands, both elastic and adjustable. No ironing required to keep them looking fresh. Smith's Model Shop, $2.98.

●NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY to change your favorite snapshots into vivid life-like color portraits. Anyone can do it, just by using little tufts of cotton and special oil paints made for the purpose. Ordinary snap-shots in matte (not glossy) finish will lend themselves to this simple and interesting transformation. Mistakes are easily removed without damage to the print. Ask for Marshall Photo-Oil Colors at Nichols, 325 Mill Street.

●MAC GREGOR'S THE THING, when you're looking for quality in sweaters, you'll agree. So you'll want to see Gilardi's selection of MacGregor short-sleeved, knitted pullovers for men — attractive color combinations on a white background. Ideal for a man's favorite outdoor pastime and an exceptionally good buy at $2.95. (322 Mill Street)

Kiwanians Hear of 'The Library in the Community'

PENNDLE, June 24—Miss Veronica Carey, chief of the circulation department of the Trenton Free Library, Trenton, N. J., spoke to members of Bucks County Lincoln Highway Kiwanis Club at its dinner-meeting at the Royal Gardens, Bensalem township, on Tuesday evening.

John A. A. Crowley, who was in charge of the program, introduced Miss Carey to the audience. Her topic for discussion was: "The Library in the Community." She said in part: "The world's largest educational system lies in the public library. Here you can find books of all types. Books on industry, farming, fiction, technical manuals, etc. All kinds of information is available in the free library. There is information on how to repair an auto, how to build a house, etc."

"The library's service to the community is one of enlightenment," asserted Miss Carey. "The library is essential today in our democratic way of life, because it will help produce an intelligent populace to cope with the ever-important problems that crop up from day to day."

Miss Carey traced the development of the libraries from the early days of our history. "Benjamin Franklin was responsible in a large measure for the start of our libraries. Nearly everyone read books in our early days; they read books on law, medicine, logic, etc., to broaden their educational scope. In the early days we had an 'Apprentice Library.' The people came to this library to learn something about the crafts. This lasted up to the beginning of the 20th century. There was a great deal of agitation at this time. Then came the growth of the free library, which was tax supported. This type of library is sometimes known as 'The Peoples' University.'"

"The library is able to accomplish many things for the individual. Many people read for relaxation as well as for informative purposes. A wealth of recreational material is available at the library. Libraries are lending out motion pictures and phonographs today. Discussion groups assemble in libraries and thrash out their problem."

On Tuesday next a representative of the Owens Illinois Glass Company will be present to relate to the group, "The Story of Glass." Motion pictures will also be shown.

Playgrounds Will Open Here Monday

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 1 to 4 and from 6 to 8 p. m.; Friday and Saturday, from 1 to 4 p. m.

Damage is being done to the field off Jefferson avenue, between the canal and the Bristol Processing Corp. plant. It has been called to the attention of the board that motorists are driving onto this field at night and parking their cars along the canal, in "spooners" row. This practice must stop, and residents of the neighborhood are asked to note license numbers of cars going into the field and advise the board. The necessary action will follow so as to stop this practice, without any inconvenience to those giving the information.

The park grounds are for the enjoyment of the public which is asked to co-operate with the recreation board in protecting them from damage. Motorists are not permitted to drive on the grounds, except where areas are designated for parking.

The grounds will open at 9:30 and close at 4:30, re-open at 5:30 and close at 8:30 each day, except Sunday, when the hours will be from 2 to 8 p. m.

Officers are Installed And Presentations Made

Installation of Bristol Chapter No. 763, Women of the Moose, was held Tuesday evening in the Moose Home.

Officers installed for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Patrick McInerney, senior regent; Miss Fanny Carango, junior regent; Mrs. Herbert Baldwin, chaplain; Mrs. John Corrigan, graduate regent; Mrs. Peter Sabatini, guide; Mrs. William Alderice, assistant guide; Mrs. John Kelly, sentinel; Mrs. Mary Martino, arguer; Mrs. Viola G. Brodie, pianist; Mrs. Charles G. Brodie, recorder; Mrs. Henry B. Berry, treasurer.

The installing officers were: Henry B. Berry, installing regent; Robert Bleakney, installing guide; Michael Castor, installing chaplain; all members of Bucks Lodge, No. 1149, L. O. O. M., of Bristol.

Mrs. Eugene Dugan, retiring graduate regent, received her graduate regent's pin, the presentation being made by Mrs. John Corrigan. A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. John Corrigan, and gifts were presented to the installing officers, presentations being made by Mrs. Peter Sabatini.

A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. McInerney by Mrs. Albert Tentilucci.

Remarks were made by the installing officers: Albert Tentilucci, governor of Bucks Lodge; Mrs. Corrigan, Mrs. Dugan and Miss Carango.

At the close of the meeting spaghetti platters were served in the grill room. There were 60 in attendance.

FILM DRUNK DRIVER

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—The Dallas police force is going into the moving picture business. And drunken drivers will be featured in every film. The Citizens Traffic Commission is setting up the equipment. When drunken drivers are stopped the movie cameras will be hauled out and motion pictures made of the driver. Police Chief Carl Hansson said the system has been used in Sacramento, Calif., and there have been no contested cases after the accused drivers saw pictures of themselves.

Officers installed for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Patrick McInerney, senior regent; Miss Fanny Caranney, junior regent; Mrs. Herbert Baldwin, chaplain; Mrs. John Corrigan, graduate regent; Mrs. Peter Sabatini, guide; Mrs. William Alderdice, assistant guide; Mrs. John Rally, sentinel; Mrs. Mary Martino, arguer; Mrs. Viola G. Brodie, pianist; Mrs. Charles G. Brodie, recorder; Mrs. Henry B. Berry, treasurer.

The installing officers were: Henry B. Berry, installing regent; Robert Bleakney, installing guide; Michael Castor, installing chaplain; all members of Bucks Lodge, No. 1169, L. O. O. F., of Bristol.

Mrs. Eugene Dugan, retiring graduate regent, received her graduate regent's pin, the presentation being made by Mrs. John Corrigan. A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. John Corrigan, and gifts were presented to the installing officers, presentations being made by Mrs. Peter Sabatini.

A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. McInerney by Mrs. Albert Tentilucci.

Remarks were made by the installing officers, Albert Tentilucci, governor of Bucks Lodge; Mrs. Corrigan, Mrs. Dugan and Miss Caranney.

At the close of the meeting spaghetti platters were served in the grill room. There were 60 in attendance.

Seven Candidates For The Republican Presidential Race Are Nominated

Martin, who injected fire into the Dewey "blitz" by jumping to the governor's side, was stopped momentarily in his tribute to the candidate by a short burst of boos which echoed through the hall.

But a frenzy of approval came with the 18-minute demonstration staged for Dewey a few minutes later.

As a former fellow Governor, Martin paid ringing tribute to Dewey's ability as an administrator and as a "man of understanding."

Gov. Earl Warren of California followed Taft, his name being placed in nomination by Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California. Hopeful Californians rushed into the aisles and paraded minutes, shouting praises their rugged candidate.

Sproul presented Warren as a "true liberal" who has "never known defeat."

Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota led the nominating honors for Harold E. Stassen, ex-Governor of the Upper State, and the young liberal candidate was given one of the most forceful ovations of the drawn-out session. The demonstration ran for 21 minutes.

Judd told the red-eyed but seemingly tireless delegates that Stassen showed more votes to the GOP in November than any other candidate in the field.

Each candidate was allowed 15 minutes for the primary nominating speech and five minutes for each of the four seconding speeches.

But at three a. m., EDT, the speech-making and roof-shaking process of getting all candidates' names before the convention was less than half way finished.

Those whose names still were to be placed in nomination and properly seconded, with all the fanfare typical of conventions, included:

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, the reluctant "dark horse" candidate; Sen. Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut; Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts; and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Shortly before three a. m. the nominating speech was made for Baldwin by Mrs. Frances Redick and the still-crowded auditorium awaited Connecticut's demonstration for an outstanding "favorite son."

At this point House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, permanent chairman of the convention, announced that seconding speeches would be limited to one minute instead of five minutes each.

This was an effort to clean up the session's business in time for the delegates to get some sleep before balloting begins later today.

There was no immediate indication that any of the remaining candidates would ask that nominating speeches in their behalf be skipped.

Two highlights of the first half of the session which opened at 9:15 p. m. were the surprise boos and catcalls which greeted the first mention of Dewey's name and the enthusiasm of the demonstration for Stassen.

The latter extended to the galleries, where a parade was launched among the spectators. Rebel yells from Stassen's college supporters gave the Minnesota's demonstration a new touch.

By three a. m. the long grind began to tell on some of the spectators. The galleries thinned out as spectators, many of them facing middle-of-the-night transportation problems to nearby cities, drifted from the big hall. Special trains were standing by to care for travelers after recess of the night session.

At 3:10 a. m. EDT, Gov. Kim Sigler of Michigan stepped up to the platform microphones and in a brief, dignified speech, formally nominated Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

He reminded the delegates that Vandenberg, the party's foreign policy leader, "has not sought this office" and has "made no attempt to gather or pledge delegates."

Sigler said the campaign for Vandenberg had begun only a few days ago and added:

"We have no bands, no banners, I present him to you without fanfare, without parades, without ballyhoo, but with the quiet dignity which becomes him and to which he is entitled. No other man can draw upon the independent vote of this country as can he. He is a man who can unite the Republican party north, south, east and west, as no other man can do."

Michigan delegates led the crowd in singing their state "Victory Song" and "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah."

Baldwin's demonstration lasted just seven minutes.

Vandenberg's demonstration lasted nine minutes.

There was no parade for Vandenberg, although his supporters roused the convention with their enthusiasm.

Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan seconded Vandenberg's nomination. He spoke only a few minutes because of the lateness of the hour and ended with the "V" sign of victory.

Harlan W. Kelley of Milwaukee, Wis., speaking without a prepared text because of partial blindness, placed the name of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in nomination at 3:20 a. m. EDT as the proceedings speeded up.

Kelley offered Gen. MacArthur as a man who "in his dealings with Soviet Russia will make us proud, instead of apologetic or ashamed of being an American."

"Most of us Republicans are tired of nominating runner-ups and also-rans," Kelley told the delegates. "We want a winner. As the strongest candidate for President that we can possibly nominate, we need Douglas MacArthur!"

Kelley predicted that MacArthur would receive "an avalanche of votes such as no candidate has ever received in our history." He stressed the importance of America having a "man of global stature" for the day when this country sits down for a peaceful "showdown" with Russia.

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, was given a warm ovation when he took the platform to second the MacArthur nomination.

Wainwright was introduced by Martin as a "distinguished soldier."

The General said that the MacArthur movement "is a movement of the whole of the people—his election will insure internal harmony and security from external aggression."

Wainwright wore a sport suit—brown trousers and white coat. His plea was moderate, noting that many delegates are pledged to other "worthy" candidates and concluding:

"However, should the progress of the convention reach a point at which the delegates may feel free to consider another candidate, I urge them to turn to MacArthur."

The session was recessed by Martin at 4:42 a. m. EDT without any other names being placed in nomination.

Martin announced that today's balloting session would convene at two p. m. EDT instead of the scheduled 11 o'clock because of the long night session's effect upon the delegates.

Following is today's program: Convention called to order at two p. m. by permanent chairman.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the
Rev. Vernon M. Murray, Jr.,
Pastor,
Wilkinson Memorial Methodist
Church, Croydon.

Our Father who art in heaven, we thank thee that thou didst give Thine only son that we through Him might have eternal life. The Greeks on Mars hill bowed to the unknown god, and worshipped ignorantly. May we be intelligent in our worship, realizing that some day every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess that Jesus is Lord. We worship Thee today in spirit and in truth, through Jesus, who died for us. Amen.

Church, Croydon.

Our Father who art in heaven, we thank thee that thou didst give Thine only son that we through Him might have eternal life. The Greeks on Mars hill bowed to the unknown god, and worshipped ignorantly. May we be intelligent in our worship, realizing that some day every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess that Jesus is Lord. We worship Thee today in spirit and in truth, through Jesus, who died for us. Amen.

FOUR YOUTH NINES IN DEADLOCK FOR LEAD OF LEAGUE

With the defeat of the Hibernians last evening, the Bristol Youth League has a quartet of teams deadlocked for first place. Teams now sharing top honors in the circuit are: Croydon, Bristol Township, Bristol Terrace, and Bell's Aces. These teams were victorious in their games last evening.

The Aces pulled the biggest surprise when they topped the Hibernians, 6-2, on the Memorial Park field. "Ronnie" Konefal outpitched "Dick" Harmon to gain the triumph for Bell's boys. Bell's outfit the losing team, 9-3, with "Ham" Konefal leading the batters with three out of three.

The Terrace nine swamped Newportville on the latter's field, 15-0, with Dick Muth missing a no-hitter. Keen's single in the fourth inning prevented the Terrace hurler from entering the mythical hall of fame.

Croydon had little trouble with Penn A. C. on Leedom's field. "Jimmy" Morrell twirling the fireless managed team to a 13-0 victory. Morrell fanned 12 batters and gave up four hits. With the stick, Harry Eisenbrey smacked out five singles in six times up.

Bristol Township nosed out the Fourth Ward Boys Club, 8-7, on the Township field. "Jim" Mitchell's double with Burton on base in the sixth inning won the game for Township. Lane Conn was the winning moundman, he relieving "Bill" Turner in the first inning when the latter walked seven batters.

Township outlived the Fourth Warders, 11-7. The game was deadlocked at 7-7 when Mitchell produced his winning base knock.

LANGHORNE LEGION GAME CALLED OFF

The Langhorne Legion-Lewis Lodge game scheduled for Langhorne last evening was called off because of rain. The game will be played at a later date.

This evening the Bristol Suburban League team will move to the inside field on Memorial Park. This is the old St. Ann's field which has been reconditioned by the Bristol Recreation Board. Ample parking space for automobiles will help relieve the congestion of traffic on Jefferson avenue as there are two entrances to the field.

St. Ann's and the Hibernians will be the contestants in the first game on the new field.

On Leedom's field, Langhorne Legion meets the Democrat Club.

Both games will begin at six o'clock.

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Maurice Tomlinson on Sunday in Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia. The name given the baby, who weighed eight pounds at birth, is Kathleen Ann.

IN-FUNNY FUNNIES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23—

(INS)—Protesting that "un-funny" funnies are no laughing matter, officials in a growing number of cities have banned sale of "comics" devoted to murder and mayhem. The American Municipal Association reports that at least four cities are acting to "spruce up" the kind of comic books offered for sale on local newsstands. Detroit particularly has cracked down. Police have banned 36 "funny" books, which censors called "corrupting to youth."

Looking Ahead To The Olympics

By International News Service
LONDON, June 24—(INS)—British Olympic Games authorities are looking today for the "perfect man" to carry the Olympic torch on the last lap from Greece to the Wembley Empire Stadium, London, on July 29, opening day of the 14th Olympiad.

The selected man need not be a famous runner, but he must look the part of what would be considered an ideal British athlete.

Reason for the search for the "perfect man" is that the Olympic film will be shown throughout the world, and the committee wants to obtain a photogenic athlete.

A few months ago it was suggested that Sydney Wooderson, the famed British miler of pre-war days, should be chosen for the job as a tribute to his great athletic achievements in Great Britain and in other countries.

Wooderson, who now is 34 years old is only 5 feet six inches tall, wears spectacles, and has hair which is thinning out on top.

Those opposed to Wooderson's selection argue that past records and running ability must be "also rans" to physical perfection.

Thus the final choice to carry the Olympic torch into the Wembley Stadium on the opening day probably will fall on some younger, and possibly unknown athlete, who is one hundred per cent photogenic in physique and style.

MOOSE DOWNS 2ND WARD

Last night at Memorial Field the Moose defeated the Second Ward boys, 5-3. The game was hard-fought and had to go ten innings after the score was tied in the seventh. But the boys of the Moose were too much for the Second Warders at the bat and afield. C.

Deitler pitched fine ball for the Moose and in the tenth hit a double with one aboard to win the game. This victory for the Moose pushed the Second Warders out of first place in the Bristol Softball League.

COMMUNITY ACTION TO DETERMINE FUTURE

Towns, Cities Can No Longer Expect Fed'l Gov't To Assume Responsibility

CHALLENGE IS GIVEN

Prepared for The Courier by the State Planning Board, Department of Commerce

The future of Pennsylvania will be determined by the action of its communities over the next half dozen years.

Because of the heavy debt burden assumed by our Nation during the second World War and the increasing commitments for foreign aid, the towns and cities of America can no longer expect the federal government to assume large responsibilities for their welfare. This is a healthy change if the challenge is accepted. America was not built up into a great Nation by the activities of our national government or federal aid. The power of our country stems solely from the enterprise, the ambitions, and the ideals of the tens of thousands of American communities. This is particularly true in Pennsylvania, a state which has more people living in small cities and towns than any other in our country.

If America is to go on from here to realize the possibilities of the leisure, the plenty, and the culture and arts which mark a great civilization, it can only be done through the communities which make up the grand total of our national life. Community action in Pennsylvania to increase opportunities for better living, for increased earning power, and for healthy recreation was never more urgently needed than at the present hour.

For many generations Pennsylvania has been providing settlers for the undeveloped areas of other states, particularly those in the far west, but it is already becoming clear that with the closing down of war industries the face of opportunity is turning east again. By the beginning of 1948 only two large industrial states registered higher employment than at the peak of the war effort. One of those states was Pennsylvania. In many of the western states, which had a large wartime development, employment had dropped from fifteen to thirty percent below their peak of four years ago.

This trend, if it continues, the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce points out, means that Pennsylvania must provide opportunity for its young men and women here at home, instead of exporting them to states, which have now, temporarily at least, reached the peak of their industrial growth. This brings the problem of opportunity to the individual neighborhoods in which we live.

If we are to prosper and grow stronger in the future, we must provide in every city, borough, and township the conditions which will make life attractive for our young people and which will bring into our state new industries from outside. This means concerted community effort for better recreation, better schools, more attractive surroundings, better water supply, and the full use of all our local resources to develop new opportunities for industry and commerce—in other words, an informed and energetic program of community action, based on the determination that where we live shall be better in the next ten years than it ever was before.

YACHTING SEASON SLOW HERE DUE TO THE WEATHER

Commodore Emeritus Edward Dougherty, whose official title is secretary of the Anchor Yacht Club of Bristol, appeared to be disgusted with the weather, yesterday, as he sat on the back porch of the club and who isn't? But the Commodore, incidentally this is an honorary degree bestowed upon him, had extra reason to be for he declared "it has slowed yachting up considerably."

Now a slow yachting season to you or I may not matter so much, but to a seasoned sailor who eats, sleeps and talks boats it is very provoking. "The trouble with the yachting season," said the aging commodore, "is that it got off to a slow start this year, and once a yachting season gets off to a slow start it never really goes into full swing. It's this rainy weather that has made things so slow. There's hardly any activity in the local club at all."

"Sunday was the first day there were any craft on the river to mention, some of the craft were from Hidesburg, Camden, and Torredale. They very seldom stop here unless they need refueling."

When asked why most of the members of the club kept their yachts over by the head of Burlington Island, "Ed" pursed his lips and said, "Well, we're pretty close to the channel on this side and it would be rather dangerous to have too many craft anchored off here."

There were three craft he could recognize from the back porch of the club that were anchored over by the island: "Jim & Mary," a 32-foot cruiser, trout hull, owned by James Christopher, Bath street; "Hello," a 40-foot cruiser owned by Ralph Race, of Philadelphia; and

"The Sea Pirate" owned by William Cloud of Frankford. The latter two men are new members of the club. In talking to the Commodore, it was learned that he is the only living active member who was one of the original organizers of the club. Dougherty has been associated with the club more than 42 years. Since 1906 to be exact. The honorary title, "Commodore Emeritus," was recently given him and a huge diploma granting him the title can be seen posted on the club house wall.

From his personal life the conversation drifted on to a discussion of the kids in swimming from the floats. "We don't have too much trouble with the boys here, occasionally a new one comes in and acts up but we put him in his place. I don't have to use any rough stuff on them. I'd never lay a hand on any of them but there are ways of quieting them down when they get too rowdy."

The local club has no immediate outing plans, but the Delaware River Yachtsmen's Association, which is an affiliation of all the clubs on the river, plans an outing over on Burlington Island, sometime in July.

DO YOU SUFFER NEEDLESS PAIN FROM ARTHRITIS?

If you do, it's your fault. New formula brings relief.

There is a new scientific formula which has already brought prompt relief to many who once suffered the tortures due to rheumatism and arthritis.

This formula is called DOLCIN. It has been tested by clinics and hospitals. As a result of these tests, doctors are now recommending DOLCIN to help rheumatic and arthritic sufferers.

DOLCIN is safe and easy to take. So there is no reason for you to suffer pain that may be completely needless. For DOLCIN costs amazingly little. 100 precious tablets cost only $2.00.

YACHTING SEASON SLOW HERE DUE TO THE WEATHER

Commodore Emeritus Edward Dougherty, whose official title is secretary of the Anchor Yacht Club of Bristol, appeared to be disgusted with the weather, yesterday, as he sat on the back porch of the club, and who isn't? But the Commodore, and incidentally this is an honorary degree bestowed upon him, had extra reason to be for he declared "it has slowed yachting up considerably."

Now a slow yachting season to you or I may not matter so much, but to a seasoned sailor who eats, sleeps and talks boats it is very provoking. "The trouble with the yachting season," said the aging Commodore, "is that it got off to a slow start this year, and once a yachting season gets off to a slow start it never really goes into full swing. It's this rainy weather that has made things so slow. There's hardly any activity in the local club at all."

"Sunday was the first day there were any craft on the river to mention, some of the craft were from Bridesburg, Camden, and Torresdale. They very seldom stop here unless they need refueling."

When asked why most of the members of the club kept their yachts over by the head of Burlington Island, "Ed" pursed his lips and said, "Well, we're pretty close to the channel on this side and it would be rather dangerous to have too many craft anchored off here."

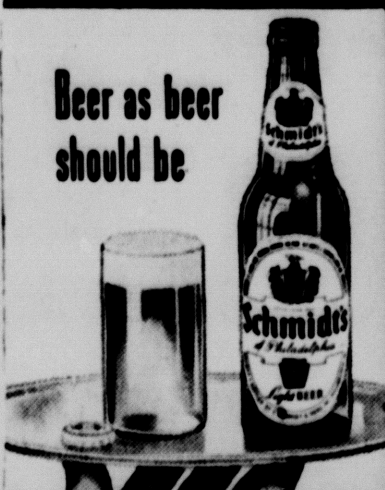

There were three craft he could recognize from the back porch of the club that were anchored over by the island: "Jim & Mary," a 32-foot cruiser, trout hull, owned by James Christopher, Bath street; "Hello," a 40-foot cruiser owned by Ralph Race, of Philadelphia; and

"The Sea Pirate," owned by William Cloud, of Frankford. The latter two men are new members of the club. In talking to the Commodore, it was learned that he is the only living active member who was one of the original organizers of the club. Dougherty has been associated with the club more than 42 years. Since 1906 to be exact. The honorary title, "Commodore Emeritus," was recently given him and a huge diploma granting him the title can be seen posted on the club house wall.

From his personal life the conversation drifted on to a discussion of the kids in swimming from the floats. "We don't have too much trouble with the boys here, occasionally a new one comes in and acts up but we put him in his place. I don't have to use any rough stuff on them. I'd never lay a hand on any of them but there are ways of quieting them down when they get too rowdy." The local club has no immediate outing plans, but the Delaware River Yachtmen's Association, which is an affiliation of all the clubs on the river, plans an outing over on Burlington Island, sometime in July.
